▶ A Deep Dive Into Adaptive Reuse:

Adaptive Reuse & Reconstruction Opportunities for Healthcare & Life Science Facilities

Converting office, retail, or industrial buildings to healthcare and life science use is not a simple process. Ceiling heights, infrastructure upgrades, uneven floors, and regulatory codes are just the beginning of a long list of idiosyncrasies. Yet, a great location, speed to market, and minimizing environmental impact are worth it. Similarly, reconstructing facilities a healthcare system already owns to other healthcare uses can offer many benefits. Explore lessons learned. See how to identify opportunities, reduce risks, save time, and create value.
